ABOUT US

NSN is the name of our small “writing” graffiti crew, born in the province of Naples in 1997, when we were three kids with a passion for hip-hop culture... In 2001 we started to study and specialize in illustration, graphics and web design ... It was at that time, when we decided to register the domain for our website that we added the 997 to the crew’s name, having not found NSN available... For a while then, our paths separated, and then rejoined Madrid.

In 2014 we began a new journey together, to develop our own style, consistent with our experiences and with the developments of street art over the last decade. Positive messages, graphic and simple language, few colors and lettering to talk about the best part of society. We have been more and more dedicated to urban art and in 2017 we began to develop our Positive Pattern. Figurative patterns that represent a positive and cohesive society. Black and white figures meet, exchange symbols and shapes, greet and embrace. Black and white are, as always, symbolic opposites. The golden yellow we use emphasizes the value and beauty of sharing, mixing and meeting.

Our focus is the community, the representation of society as plurality trying to create a discourse on a more equitable economy, enhance sharing and therefore the common goods. We believe that street art has an intrinsic value as a public art. Our vision is of an urban art active in society, a kind of propaganda alternative to individualism and accumulation, images in support of a new socio-economic paradigm. This is our Artivismo. Since 2016 we have been in the collective elKeller of the CSA laTabacalera in Madrid. In the years NSN997 has made participatory murals and workshops in schools and public events. Our work is in Spain, Italy, Portugal, Greece and Romania but we hope to go further and further.
